The moose, who lived with the goose, had a wonderful view from the roof of their house. He looked down at Miss Mouse, who shouts very loud when she drives in her car, which is shaped like a star. She didn't get far before she bumped into lorry - Miss Mouse said, "I'm sorry! I'm horribly late for my date at the gate with the three bumblebees who wear dungarees and make lots of cheese that they sell to the people in front of the steeple on hot afternoons!" The lorry said, "Ooh can I come too please? I really feel I'm in the mood for some cheese". Miss Mouse said, "Of course! There's cheese for us all! We'll sit on the floor and eat before bed and what we don't eat we'll keep in the shed!"
